Athletic Program Now in Operation

Following a study made of the present athletic program and methods of awarding letters in the various sports by a special committee appointed by Mr. Ireland, a completely new program has been set up in the form of a permanent Athletic Council.

The council is made up of the Headmaster, Mr. Ireland, who acts as chairman, the Faculty Director of Athletics, Mr. Anderson, the Bursar, Mr. Myers, and the Directors of the Physical Education for Boys and Girls, Mr. Roderick and Miss Stallwood, who are all permanent members. There will be three elective members: a head coach elected by the permanent members of the council, one member from the Student Council, and one from the Girls Athletic Association, each appointed by their respective organization. This year the three electees are Mr. Scott, Jerry Davis, and Martha Crocker respectively.

The duties of the Council will be to approve all schedules, plan equipment, choose officials for home games, approve awards, formulate policies concerning injuries received in athletic contests, delegate duties for the proper administration for the athletic program, and set up policies for the program.

The constitution goes on to state the duties of the Director of Athletics which will be to make out schedules, hire officials, keep records of all sports, act as contact between coaches, Headmaster, and the Council, provide transportation and other duties which are necessary for an efficient program.

The Athletic Council has set up standards which will be used in the awarding of letters for all sports. The requirements are as follows: Only one chenille block "G" may be earned by any student during his entire membership at Gould. This letter may be earned in any sport. An athlete who earns subsequent letters will receive additional recognition in the form of a certificate for each additional letter. No award will be given if the season is not finished for reasons other than injury or illness. Awards will be made as soon as possible after the close of the season. The awarding of letters to girls will be the same as already set up in the constitution of the Girls Athletic Association.

A definite program for the awarding of letters has been set up for each sport. Following is a brief summary of the standards for each sport: cross-country, skiing, and track are still under study; in basketball a player must compete in half the periods in the season, but an award may be made upon the recommendation of the coach to a senior who has served well but has not been able to earn the letter; to earn a letter in baseball, one must play in one half the total number of innings except for pitchers and base coaches to whom awards may be made upon the recommendation of the coach; a player must participate in two-thirds of the games of the football season but an award may be made to a senior who has gone out for four years. Each year out will credit a team member with participation in one game and this credit is cumulative and may be applied toward a letter award during the senior year. A blue sweater with a woven "G" will be awarded to any one who has earned six letters in successive seasons with two years or seven letters in any number of seasons.

As it is stated, each team shall have a manager, assistant manager, and scrub managers. The assistant manager shall automatically become manager the following year and the assistant manager shall be chosen from

HOLDEN HALL ENTERTAINS WITH NOVEL DORM PARTY

The annual Boys' Dorm Party was held at Holden Hall on Saturday night, November 22. Room inspection began at 7:30 P. M. and lasted until 8:15, when the girls voted for the best appearing room. Room 22, which is Marshall's and Hamilton's, won the honor by a large margin. After that the crowd retired to the library, where charades was played. Tim Terry won, having guessed the name of a movie in two seconds flat. Meanwhile a scavenger hunt was going, upstairs and down, the prize of the evening being a pair of yellow pajamas.

The next center of attraction was the basement, where some of the Holdenites put on a real old-fashioned minstrel show. "Doc" Dysart stole the show as interlocutor, singing "Steamboat Bill." In black-face were Don Powers, Don Emmet, Dave Farrington, and Bert Fernald. Other soloists were John Patterson, Ed Bailey, Bob Medeiros and Dick Klain, and Bert Fernald and Jim Gray.

After the show there was dancing, and refreshments were served. The winners of a drawing held at the beginning of the party were announced at that time. An evening of hilarious fun came to a close with Dick Marshall awarding various prizes.

Weekend Festivities Open Yuletide Season

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT TAKES FORM OF NATIVITY SCENE

The Christmas cantata, "Pettit Noel," written by Pierson, Underwood, and Perry, was presented by the Varsity Glee Club under the direction of Miss Griggs, Sunday, December 14, at the Congregational Church. The cantata is the story of French villagers of a small village who congregate to worship and behold the Child Jesus. The villagers believe that Bethlehem is just a very few villages distant from their own homes. The peasants, shepherds, and well-to-do people from the village all gather in one spot and wait for Mary and Joseph to enter. During one of the songs sung by the group, all the villagers pay homage to the manger.

Soloists chosen by Miss Griggs were Jessie May Jones, Edgar Bailey, Richard Ireland, Roberta Buck, Gertrude Penner, and a trio, Lois Van, Bettie Backus, and Mary Scott. Due to sickness Jessie Jones was unable to sing. Beverly Lurvey, took, on short notice, the part of Mary, Ed Bailey, the part of Joseph, and Roberta Buck played the Mistress of the Inn.

An echo choir, chosen from the girls' glee club, added much to the singing. These were five altoes and five sopranos: Margaret Mayer, Jean Renwick, Edith White, Charlotte Scribner, and Laura Wilson; Ann Parsons, Nancy Runyon, Eleanor Gurney, Nancy Van, and Rachel Brown.

The three kings were Herbert Hunt, Richard Spitz, and Paul Desautelles. The shepherds were Uno Hertell and Ted Chadbourne.

It is also important that the committees which helped decorate and costume be mentioned. They worked very conscientiously fixing candles, stage settings, and costumes. Group chairmen were as follows: Bettie McAllister, Barbara Anderson, Nancy Van, and Barbara Spooner.

The narrator was Richard Dysart. Preludes were played by Mrs. Ireland and Grace Lenfest.

CASTING BEGINS FOR THESE ONE-ACT PLAYS

The three one-act plays, which will be given on Friday of the Carnival week-end, are being cast. The three plays are "It Happens Each Spring," "More Perfect Union," and "You're Fired."

"It Happens Each Spring" is a farce about school goings-on. "You're Fired" is also a farce, and tells of the efforts of a young man to get fired so he can marry his girl. The serious play is "More Perfect Union," which deals with racial tolerance.

So far only the first play has been cast. The parts were given as follows: George Williams—Dave Farrington; Alice Williams—

HOLIDAY FORMAL WELL ATTENDED

The annual Christmas Formal was held Dec. 13, in the William Bingham Gymnasium.

Al Brackley and his orchestra provided the music.

The gym was attractively decorated with Christmas boughs, crepe paper, colored lights and one large tree in the center of the place with smaller ones decorating the stage.

The refreshments, served during intermission were cookies, ice cream and punch.

The annual ball was sponsored by the Student Council, and the following were in the receiving line: Mr. and Mrs. Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston, Mr. Richardson, Miss Bowman, and Louis Wood.

The committee which planned and carried out this dance so successfully were as follows: Decoration Committee, Barbara Crockett, Bettie Backus and Ann Lord; Refreshment Committee, Richard Ireland, Guy Emery and Deborah Durivage; Program Committee, Jo Terriberry, Jerry Davis, Trudy Penner and Marilyn Judkins; Clean-up Committee, Jimmy Brown, Louis Wood and Bill O'Brien; Invitation Committee, Bob Hill, Dick Marshall, and Uno Hertell.

The evening began with a Grand March and the program included three novelty numbers—a multiplication dance, an elimination dance and a spotlight dance. The evening ended in a good night waltz.

CHRISTMAS TEA

The annual Christmas tea sponsored by the girls of Gehring Hall was held this year on Sunday, December 14. Members of the Board of Trustees, faculty members, parents, and boys of Holden Hall were entertained.

The general and co-chairmen of the tea were Barbara Crockett and Sally Adams, respectively. Chairman of the serving committee was Betty Gould, and Jerry Linnell was chairman of clean-up. Peggy Barton took care of all the decorations and Lyn Vinton headed the food committee; the home economics department made the sandwiches. Jane Hartwell had charge of the guest book, while Jean Brockmeyer, Grace Lenfest, Joan Taylor, and Gloria Cutting ushered.

Barbara Crockett and Sally Adams poured from 3:00 to 4:00 and Peggy Barton and Betty Barlow from 4:00 to 5:00. Martha Crocker, head of the dormitory council, acted as hostess throughout the afternoon.

EDITORIAL

Call It Anything You Like

A lot has been said on the subject of Editorials. They are usually supposed to be beneficial to all those who read them, and usually are, if people ever bother to read them anyhow. Then there are those which are supposed to be merely entertaining, and not be particularly helpful to anybody, one way or another. Let us take the main kinds here, and analyze them to see what makes them tick.

First of all, we have the aforementioned beneficial editorials; these are carefully calculated to make everybody lead a much better life. I don't know anybody of my acquaintance who reads them, much less applies them, although I suppose it IS done. In fact, I have even been known to read one myself, and even apply what I read. I most certainly shall read this one, although as far as applying anything, I can't quite see anything worth applying. Most beneficial editorials are the type that people read very conscientiously, and when they get half way through someone comes and wants them to come and look at something, and so away they go, leaving the poor editorial hanging around on a chair somewhere. Such is the usual fate of perfectly good, and well-meant helpful messages.

Then we have the type where some current problem is discussed, re-hashed, chéved over, decided upon, sentenced, and finally executed with all the dispatch possible to the writer. Perfectly harmless questions are taken up in this way, and thoroughly irritated until they reach the proportions of a real issue, which is the way the editorial wants it. Maybe he figures that if he makes a big enough problem out of it, and then solves it himself, he can get some kind of a name for himself and maybe get a job on a big paper, so he can stir up more world issues. Most questions would be very meek, and crawl back into where they came from if they were only let alone. They go on the principle that if people don't hurt them, they won't hurt people. But no; the poor things are dragged out, and pumped up into real big issues, and all for an editorial that nobody cares much about anyhow. As long as two papers can have a fight, editorially, about something, that's all the readers care about. Ah, the bloodthirst of the American people!

Then there's the kind that makes no sense anyhow, and merely tries to be funny, or at least mildly amusing. And here we have the type that fails most completely and horribly. Nothing makes the reading public any madder than to be forced into reading something that doesn't amuse them, and hasn't anything to do with anything or anyone in particular. Now if it had a nice, juicy, slander in it—but no. So they read down the column rapidly, frantically, trying, with their soul in it, to find something that makes just a little sense. Vain hope!

And here we have the three main types of editorial. And if you can find anything relative or pertinent to something in my 500 odd words, you're a better man than I am, Ginga Din!

OPINIONS APPRECIATED

In almost every newspaper and magazine today one can find the important question, "What is your opinion of the new longer skirts?" Everyone from the man on the street to the movie star is questioned and a great variety of answers appears. So, being the only representative of the Gallup Poll in this neck of the woods, I decided to see what the opinions at Gould were on this much discussed subject.

Janice Underwood when questioned, blushed and finally said, "Well, they do cover bony knees. . . ."

Guy Emery brought the interesting opinion that he felt like getting a squirt gun, filling it with ink and carrying on in the tradition of the "ink slinger" in "Tillie the Toller."

Edgar Bailey, who was nabbed while seated in the Restaurant, looked cautiously around him and finally said, "Well, if you want my frank opinion, I think they look like . . ."

Ann Cummings likes them because she says they make the wearer look more feminine.

Moving on to Reggie Nye this interesting answer came forth, "If a babe's got good legs, I don't see why she should hide them."

Frankie MacRae said she couldn't make any comment because her press agent wouldn't allow it.

Herbie Hunt said they looked pretty good on tall girls but he didn't like them on short girls.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM

scrub managers by the coach and the team and the out-going manager. Scrub managers shall be appointed by the coach from the two lower classes.

The constitution provides that the captain of a team for the following season must be elected by the letter men of the preceding season. In case of a tie, co-captains shall serve. This, briefly as possible, is the new program designed from the study of the Special Committee.

FIRST PEP RALLY HELD UNDER DIRECTION OF NEWLY FORMED COUNCIL

The walk of the William Bingham gym echoed with Gould cheers at a pep rally held Wednesday, December 10. The master of ceremonies, Dick Dysart, introduced the cheer leaders and the speakers. Mr. Ireland spoke on the new Athletic Council, and Coach Anderson gave the history of basketball for the last decade. Mr. Anderson announced at that time the captain of the basketball team, Dave Foster, elected a few days before. Gould was honored to have a guest speaker, Principal E. F. Herrmann, from Gorham, N. H., High School, who gave an interesting and worthwhile talk on sportsmanship. The rally ended with the Gould Alma Mater. This was the first rally sponsored by the Athletic Council, paving the way for future rallies for all sports.

THE HEADMASTER'S CORNER

Education is not measured by the the facts you can answer in a test, but by the way you live and act when you are by yourself or with friends and you are the only one responsible for your action.

Can you entertain yourself or must you be eternally on the go or amused by someone else?

Can you force yourself to do a job because of your own sense of duty when it is not enjoyable or the easiest way out, but something you know should be done?

Thoughtfulness for others, especially toward your parents and friends will bring you more satisfaction and favorable comments than any other gifts you can ever give or receive this Christmas time or any other time.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

E. F. Ireland, Headmaster

MARTHA CROCKER

Martha Elizabeth Crocker was born in Brewster, Mass., in 1929. She spent her childhood there, going to the Brewster Grammar School. Then she went to the Orleans High School, from which she graduated in 1946, with the first honor part.

Hezzie came to Gould last year as a junior. Since that time she has participated in many activities.

She was elected a member of the Girls' Dormitory Council last spring and was voted president this fall. She also is a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, in which she is manager of basketball.

When the new Athletic Council was formed this year, Hezzie was elected the member from the Girls' AA Council. She was then voted secretary of that organization.

Hezzie went out for basketball last year and made both the class and varsity teams.

Last year Hezzie took the part of one of the witnesses in the play, "Four Hundred Nights," which was presented at Carnival.

During her years at Gould, Hezzie has been on many committees. She was the chairman of the AA Party and also headed the committee for the presentation of the marionette show. She was the hostess at the Christmas Tea.

She has maintained honor ranks during her years at Gould.

She plans to go to Simmons College next year after she graduates from Gould. At Simmons she will major in journalism, heading for a career in writing, although she is not sure which branch.

BOOK REVIEW

An enjoyable Sunday evening was spent November 23, when Mrs. Hawthorne entertained the Girls' Dormitory with a book review. The book selected by Mrs. Hawthorne was "While the Angels Sing," a new novel by Gladys Hasty Carroll. The story deals with Christmas which blended in well with the present Yule Tide Season.

During the evening, while refreshments were being served, Edith White, Geraldine and Edileen Linnell gave a few musical numbers.

Mrs. Hawthorne's kindness was greatly appreciated in furnishing a most enjoyable evening.

OUTING CLUB FORMED

The Outing Club of Gould Academy held its first meeting of the year on December third and will immediately start plans for the carnival, which it sponsors annually. In addition to the carnival, it will also sponsor the State Ski Meet, the New England meet, and the County meet here on the campus.

Mr. Richardson will replace Mr. Myers this year of the task of being the club's faculty adviser and ski coach for the team.

UNDER THE CUPOLA

Inhabitants of Holden Hall were startled one night by a strange parade of mournful-looking characters through the halls. It was finally discovered that a funeral was being held in Room 22. Chaplain Dysart was in charge of the service, while the bereaved goldfish lovers, Marshall and Hamilton, tried to conceive some noble resting place for the pair of deceased. A tender "burial-at-sea" was held after a solemn promenade through the corridors. The fatal illness was said to have been brought on by confinement in a water-filled cider jug. Those nearest the deceased wish to express their appreciation for the respectful attitude displayed by those attending the services.

Attention!—Door Bites Man!—Shelby Putnam, an alleged student of Gould Academy, was found last week, purple-faced and gasping, on the floor of his room after going through the trying ordeal of having a door slam shut, apparently of its own accord, on his — arm. P. S.—The victim is back in circulation.

Flash—Does anyone have a spare tear to shed for Curly Emmett? The score so far: 1 afternoon of skiing—1 ski gone.

Not so long ago, one morning after breakfast, a bed was found partly on the floor. What happened was not unlike the chain reaction of the atomic bomb. Beds were being scattered all over rooms and even stuffed in closets. Everyone was surprised (?) to see the devastation wrought by the mysterious marauders. It wasn't long after that a sad bunch received a just punishment.

The Holden Hall basement has been in the process of receiving a new coat of paint. The ski room was carefully locked; the painting carried on in secret. For days the odor of paint choked those living nearby. At last the day came; the newly painted floor was to be open to the public. The key was brought up, inserted in the lock, and low and behold, the lock refused to open. The floor still is a secret.

Rines' and Fernald's "candy and tonic at lowest prices" now has competition. Monsieur Hunt has opened a new candy shoppe. His motto—"I undersell all others." His store is the portable type, an old candy box. His busiest corner is outside Rines' and Fernald's shoppe. The prices get lower each day.

The night before vacation presented a temptation that wasn't resisted with much success. The first murmurs of merriment emanated from Room 18 where cider flowed noisily. Then rooms 19 and 20 became inextricably involved. Ten minutes later ghastly, pajama-clad figures filtered into the eerie light of the corridor. Soon the merry clink of bottles was heard. Inbibing? No, bowling! Two of the prominent members of the pajama clan wandered away from the fracas, and after the smoke cleared, were nowhere to be seen.

Excitement in Gehring Hall! Why? The new Bendik! Anybody want HIS laundry done — for a nominal fee?

The Louis-Walcott fight found the Gehring Hall occupants as wide awake as their brothers across the street. Pajama-ed girls, thoroughly creamed and pin-curved, glued ears to radio. The dorm vibrated with feminine sighs of relief as each round-ending gong sounded and "Joey" still stood. The decision found few dissenters and much pillow pounding and blanket hauling expressed the hilarious approval of many.

During the past few weeks Gehring Hall seems to have been having quite a gay time of it—leastways, a devilish one! Third hall, trying to outdo second's previous attempts at trouble-making, seems to find doorslamming a rather satisfying occupation. It really was a shame they had to take it out on the poor, helpless animals though, wasn't it, girls?

That strange, unknown bottle of luminous paint really traveled through the building last week. It left its rather weird earmarks in several odd places—including a few well-known rooms—ask Ann!

Knitting has become quite a fad at the dorm, now that Christmas is nearing. Evidently everyone seems to consider socks a pleasing gift for "The Man"—hmmmm!!!

CYP CLUB ACTIVITIES

On Monday evening, Dec. 1, the Cyp Club went to South Paris to a Youth Rally. Upon arriving at the Congregational Church a speech by Miss Betty Long over the Youth Rally Convention that she attended this summer at Oslo, Norway. She told of the many unfavorable conditions in Europe and of the people's endurance and struggle in order to survive. After this movies were shown about hints and advice for inexperienced Sunday School teachers.

At the Congregational Church on November 31, an installation of officers took place. Rev. Miller from Portland was master of ceremonies and the church was lighted with candles which added much to the effect.

A large crowd gathered at the Top Hat Friday evening, November 28, for a dance. There were many square-dances, which proved to be loads of fun, and a novelty dance to add to the enjoyment. Refreshments were served and the proceeds went to the Club.

On Thursday, December 4, there was a sale at the Congregational Church where the Cyp raffled off a "Parker 51" pen. The Cyp Club had a Candy Bar and sold candy and lapel pins. After the supper the winner of the pen was found to be Dick Waldron.

Four boys went to Portland December 6, to attend the Older Boys Conference of the State of Maine. They were: Lee Carver, David Bennett, Teddy Young, and Donald Lord.

GOULD—ROCKLAND GAME

On Friday, December 12, an anxious Gould five met a fiery Rockland quintet in the Rockland Community Building in 32 minutes of seesawing basketball. Boosted by a rally in the final two minutes of the game, Coach Anderson's Huskies came through with a 38-33 win over the Rockland Class A'ers. Jerry Davis tallied up 14 points and Ted Young added another 8 to the score, both by skilled under-the-basket manipulation. Murgita for Rockland sunk in 12 points for the opponents. Both teams played exceptional basketball amidst high tension enthusiasm on the part of the audience. Before and after the game the Huskies were entertained by Robert Clunie, a former Gould teacher, now Rockland's principal.

By vote of the lettermen, Jerry Davis has been elected football captain for the 1948 season. Jerry has been a backfield mainstay of the team for three years, being one of the few who have made the team in their freshman year. This year, Jerry led the team in scoring with 12 touchdowns, kicked 9 extra points and did most of the passing. Jerry is equally strong defensively as offensively and will be a strong point of the team.

SKI TEAM NEWS

The members of last year's ski team reelected Dick Ireland as captain and elected John Paul Jones as manager for this year's team.

Dick Ireland has proved the spark-plug of the team in the past by winning nearly every race he has entered. He has the ability to win in any event regardless of how tough the opposition is. This year he is captain for the second time and will undoubtedly add many victories to his score.

J. P. Jones was manager of the Edward Little ski team last year and is well qualified for managing Gould's team.

The assistant and scrub managers have not yet been chosen but will be in the near future. Thus far there have been several meets scheduled. The biggest is, of course, the New England Championship here on Feb. 13-14. We will entertain several out of state teams then as well as Maine Teams. The entire state meet, originally planned for Edward Little, has been switched to here on the following week.

Twenty boys have signed up for the team including lettermen Ireland, Hunt, Adams, Marshall, Croteau and Bennett. The jump and cross country trail are ready and practice should begin about a week before vacation.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM FETED

The Cross Country Squad had a post-season party at Mr. Ireland's camp which was enjoyed by all. After an afternoon of various activities the boys received a hearty evening meal consisting of hamburgers, hot dogs, coffee, and ice cream prepared by Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Fossett.

During the course of events it was announced that Uno Hertell will be captain of next year's team. Following the announcement it was a question if the captain-elect would take an involuntary swim or not. The "Flying Finn" proved himself quite able capable of talking himself out of trouble.

The squad tremendously enjoyed themselves and still wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Ireland and Coach and Mrs. Fossett for their hospitality.
